INFORMATION SYSTEM

- Information System can be technically defined as a set of interrelated components that collect, process, store and distribute data / information and provide feedback mechanism to meet an objective.

UNIFIED DISTRICT INFORMATION SYSTEM FOR EDUCATION   (UDISE)

- Unified District Information System for Education is also a set of interrelated components that collect,process, store and distribute data and information and provide a feedback mechanism to meet an objective. If the data (facts and figures) collected at root level would be accurate , the accurate information will be generated, which will further help the higher level authorities to take the right decisions , future planning and track the progress.

UDISE +
(Computer Based online Information System)

UDISE + is a computer based online information . This is an organizational information system that rely on computer technology to collect, process, store and disseminate information. A computer based information is composed of hardware, software, database , telecommunication,people and procedures.

MANAGEMENT INFORMATION SYSTEM (MIS)

- Management Information System is an Information System that generate accurate, timely and organized information to help the higher level authorities to:

- Make decisions

- Control process

- Solve Problems

- Supervise activities

- Track Progress

Sub Titles

Blocks

Clusters

Schools with UDISE Code

Online UDISE+(udiseplus.gov.in)

Year wise and block wise Analytical Data